These laws protect against specific forms of discrimination in employment, credit transactions, public accommodation, housing, county facilities and services, and county contracts.

Fastenal shall comply with the substantive requirements of Chapter 2.460 SCC, which are incorporated herein by this reference. Execution of this Agreement constitutes a certification by Fastenal of the Fastenal's compliance with the requirements of Chapter 2.460 SCC. If the Fastenal considers any portion of any record provided to the Customer under this Agreement, whether in electronic or hard copy form, to be protected from disclosure under law, the Fastenal shall clearly identify any specific information that it claims to be confidential or proprietary. If the Customer receives a request under the Act to inspect or copy the information so identified by the Fastenal and the Customer determines that release of the information is required by the Act or otherwise appropriate, the Customer’s sole obligations shall be to notify the Fastenal (a) of the request and (b) of the date that such information will be released to the requester unless the Fastenal obtains a court order to enjoin that disclosure pursuant to RCW 42.56.540. If the Fastenal fails to timely obtain a court order enjoining disclosure, the Customer will release the requested information on the date specified.

The Customer has, and by this section assumes, no obligation on behalf of the Fastenal to claim any exemption from disclosure under the Act. The Customer shall not be liable to the Fastenal for releasing records not clearly identified by the Fastenal as confidential or proprietary.
