Why would you like to serve on this board/commission?

As one of the most economically dynamic and socially diverse counties in Washington, Snohomish County is poised to lead the state in innovative policies and programs that will allow for economic growth, natural resource management and a variety of housing choices for current and new residents. This board helps manage county-wide public facilities and offers the opportunity enhance the economic benefit to the county. Participating on this board will allow me to leverage my project management and leadership skills to effectively manage state and local resources and provide key guidance on a variety of issues related to the public facility management.

Please explain why you are a qualified candidate, including relevant professional experience, to serve on the board/commission.

Personally and professionally I have a long record of community planning and economic development, both locally and internationally. Prior to moving to Edmonds, I served as a member and the chair of Planning Commission for eight years in the city of Shoreline, WA. In that role I advised the city in many areas of growth management, including Public Facility management, Sound Transit Light Rail Station Area planning and rezoning efforts with Sound Transit and the full Comprehensive Plan renewal. I also served as the president of the 535 home, Innis Arden neighborhood HOA where I worked with the city of Shoreline and other neighborhood leaders to ensure transportation safety, open space preservation and community policing collaboration.

In my professional career, I've worked for Boeing and Amazon in a variety of facility management and operation leadership positions that included working directly with Snohomish County and Paine Field leadership to ensure alignment for Boeing facilities at the airport. I also led the planning and construction management teams for Boeing's international facilities in Asia, Middle East and Australia. In my current role at Amazon I lead the company's economic development, entitlement and planning efforts for the Pacific Northwest. In this role I work closely with Snohomish County and community leaders in Everett, and Arlington where Amazon has significant presence.

I believe my passion for facility management, community planning and collaboration along with my experience makes me uniquely qualified to serve on this board.
