The Executive's 2025-2026 Recommended Budget includes a 1% general property tax increase, as well as the use of banked capacity (~3.15% each year).

Where Does the Money Go?

- In 2025-26 the Executive's Recommended Budget plans to spend just over $3.06 billion dollars to provide a diverse array of services to the residents of Snohomish County. Of this amount, $699.8 million is in the General Fund.
- Some of the services are provided regionally to all residents of the County such as:
  - Solid Waste, Elections, Prosecuting Attorney
  - Corrections, Superior Court, Evergreen Fair
- Other services are provided to residents of unincorporated Snohomish County such as:
  - Sheriff, Roads Maintenance and Construction
  - Surface Water Management, Parks and Recreation, Planning and Development Services

What are the challenges for 2025-2026?

Public safety: The continuation of the opioid crisis, exacerbated by the influx of fentanyl, impacts public officials at all levels of government, and requires significant resources to address.

Behavioral health: A constant area of concern in all populations, especially youth and schools, with capacity issues across the mental health spectrum of care. The lack of sufficient behavioral health facilities is increasingly challenging as we strive to meet the needs of the community.

Government Services: Unfunded mandates and disproportionate revenue sharing along with continuing increases in the cost of providing government services due to inflationary pressures produces significant challenges in our ability to provide core services, while balancing the financial impact to residents.

Federal Funding Ending: With the expiration of pandemic recovery funds, the ability to provide ongoing services in areas of need such as housing, childcare, food services, etc. must be balanced with other core government services.
